

As we look at Zechariah 12:1, God says that He formed the spirit of man within him. It is increasingly common to hear people talk as though man is just an animal who developed the ability to think. That there is, essentially, no substantial difference that is otherwise unique concerning man. As we consider what Zechariah 12:1 says, however, what other created “thing” received a spirit from God? (See also Psalm 8)